

Ingredion Mexico Named a Socially Responsible Company

December 4, 2019

For the fifth consecutive year, Ingredion has been ranked by Expansión magazine and Schulich Business School as a Socially Responsible Company.

Only the top 500 companies in Mexico are considered for recognition, with 128 companies finally receiving the ranking. Ingredion was the only food ingredients company to make the list.

“At Ingredion, sustainability is a pillar of our business strategy. It is very important to provide social, economic and environmental value in the places where we are present. We are focusing on being more diverse and inclusive, as are our collaborators, clients and the communities we serve,” said Rob Ritchie, president and general director, Ingredion Mexico.

To be considered, companies must deliver significant results related to economic and environmental management and social impact in Mexico.

“Thanks to all our employees who contribute every day to enhance Ingredion Mexico's commitment to sustainability. We are all part of this milestone,” said Luz Nájera, director, corporate affairs and sustainability.

For more information about our sustainability work click here.